

Vertically Integrated Renewable Energy Solutions Provider

Clairvoyant Energy is a worldwide developer of utility-scale renewable energy projects, primarily in solar space, and migrating to a vertically integrated dispatchable renewable energy solutions provider. Clairvoyant Energy is responding to the United States' call for more renewable energy product manufacturing, with several DOE loans and grants in process.

It has developed significant renewable energy projects in the United States and Spain, with a current pipeline of projects in Italy, Spain, California, Arizona, Florida and now Michigan. Clairvoyant Energy developed and owns the world's largest rooftop solar power generating park, located in Zaragoza, Spain.

Clairvoyant Energy builds, owns and operates solar photovoltaic energy generating systems. Our expertise offers vacant land and roof-top owners a low-risk path to green energy production on what is otherwise an unused asset. We allow our clients to do their part to improve the environment while creating a financial benefit by renting their roof and vacant land. We also specialize in assisting those who own environmental challenging properties to "Green Up" those properties.
