

2008 EXPEDITION

NEW FOR 2008

- King Ranch series returns to lineup
- Available Rearview Camera System
- Available power-deployable running boards
- Keyless entry keypad now standard
- Electrochromic mirror and heated power mirrors now standard
- New 18-inch chrome clad wheel option on XLT

The 2008 Ford Expedition and Expedition EL extended length model combine bold Ford Truck design, functionality and toughness with high levels of interior refinement for full-size SUV customers. With eight available arrays across the lineup - including the return of the King Ranch series - Expedition's lineup provides customers the most choice amongst full-size SUV offerings.

For customers who want even more cargo-carrying capability, Ford offers the Expedition EL. With 14.8 inches of additional overall length, Expedition EL delivers 130.8 cubic feet of cargo space - including 24 cubic feet more behind the third-row seat than the already spacious Expedition. Expedition EL rides on a 131-inch wheelbase - 12 inches longer than the standard Expedition. Both models offer a power liftgate and power running boards.

For 2008, Expedition makes several features standard including keyless entry keypad and heated power mirrors. A new available Rearview Camera System provides drivers a clear view behind the vehicle. Activated when the vehicle is shifted into reverse, the video image is displayed in the self-dimming rearview mirror.

Expedition EL was rated top large SUV as a Total Quality Award™ winner in Strategic Vision's 2007 Total Quality Index™ which measures new vehicle owner satisfaction.

INNOVATION: FOLD-FLAT THIRD ROW SEAT

Expedition's third-row seat folds flat into the load floor, providing easily accessible cargo space without the inconvenience of removing a heavy, cumbersome rear seat. For the ultimate in convenience, Expedition buyers can choose a first-in-class, optional PowerFold™ third-row seat that folds flat with the touch of a button.
