"Ford continued to see high-demand vehicles turning at record rates in September, while developing electric truck and van leadership and extending our overall truck leadership. Demand remains strong with new retail orders rapidly expanding. We are very pleased with the work from our dealers, employees and the area's first responders, as they are working tirelessly to recover in Florida from Hurricane Ian. – Andrew Frick, vice president, Sales, Distribution & Trucks, Ford Blue

MUST-HAVE PRODUCTS

Ford Pro

Businesses of all sizes and types continued to use E-Transits and Ford Pro's suite of software and services to lower costs and accelerate productivity. America's top-selling electric commercial van, the E-Transit, represents 90 percent share of the overall electric van market. Through September, Ford has sold 4,387 electric vans. NYC announced its fleet now includes 200 Mustang Mach-Es, and the city has made its largest purchase of medium-duty EVs with the order of 300 E-Transits and F-150 Lightnings.

Ford Electric

Sales of Ford's electric vehicles tripled over last year, with F-150 Lightning sales totaling 8,760 since its launch this year in June. F-150 Lightning remains one of Ford's fastest-turning vehicles on dealer lots, turning in just 8 days. Mustang Mach-E sales increased 47.3 percent over last year, while turning in just 10 days on dealer lots.

Ford Trucks
